This World

VIRGINIA JENKINSON

To bake a cake one must have the proper proportions of flour, baking powder and fluid or the result is something less than satisfactory. And so it is with a newspaper! A weekly newspaper, to be a good one, must first of all have an abundance of local news which covers as many areas of community activity as is possible within the limits of time and mechanical production.

But the duty of the weekly or the semi-weekly no longer ends at the door of its own town. In this present day world, it must, along with its brothers of the daily press, TV and other media, take some share in attempting to bring better understanding among men. It is no longer the day of the one horse shay . . . it is the day of the hydrogen bomb! And no man must do less than try to understand his fellowman, whether it be his next door neighbor or the man only a day away on the other side of the world.

It is interesting to note that the California Publishers' Association's awards for the best editorial pages in the weekly and semi-weekly class went to the papers carrying editorials on local, national and international subjects.

This column is being written at home, because we wanted to quote something Willa Cather wrote many years ago in her book, "My Antonia". Unfortunately, the book is still packed with so many of our things and it can not be found at the moment but we have never forgotten her beautiful description of a man so filled with his love of humanity that she wrote of him, "Old man Rosica had a talent for liking people — just as some people have a talent for writing or painting. He was a real artist in his own way."

And the reason we wanted to quote her beautiful passage, which was so much greater than we have written it is because just such a man existed in Sierra Madre. His name was Wm. Cook and he was custodian of City Schools for several years.

Mr. Cook made his job a thing of surpassing beauty because of his great and genuine love for children. His talent was liking people and helping them in whatever way he could. And when his stay on this earth was ended the other week, the children who had received so much of his love, responded with theirs. They brought flowers to the Sierra Mesa School where the teachers tenderly fashioned them into fifteen beautiful floral arrangements which were laid by his side. What greater success in life could any man desire?

Harlan Ware, well known writer, now living in Carmel, bounced into our office yesterday on his way to a two day session at the University of Redlands where he will lecture on "Writing". Mr. Ware, as most of you know, writes "One Man's Family" for radio along with Michael Raffetto who has played the part of Paul in the series for the past 22 years.

All sorts of interesting things are happening to Mr. Ware, who until recently lived in Santa Anita Oaks. He has just sold a short story to "Saturday Evening Post", and his "Come Fill the Cup" will be seen on Lux Radio Theatre featuring Richard Widmark and Mona Freeman, April 5. James Cagney played in the film version of the novel several years ago.

Mr. Ware is responsible for approximately 390,000 words a year on his "One Man's Family" assignment which is equivalent to writing 5 novels. He must prepare 30 scripts without respite and he then has several weeks off for other ventures.

In spite of this heavy schedule, Mr. Ware had the courtesy to write us a paragraph a couple of weeks ago with a word of praise on the piece we wrote on Joe Collins, our linotype operator. After hearing his tremendous working regime, we are doubly appreciative of his kind words.

HERBERT J. HARRISON, recently appointed Councilman who will be officially seated at the next meeting of the City Council. Tuesday, March 22. Mr. Harrison who has resided in Sierra Madre since 1939, fills the position left vacant by the resignation of former Mayor Charles E. Louk, who was named postmaster in January.

1/3 of Quota Reported by Red Cross

Nearly $2000 had been collected by the end of last week in the local Red Cross Drive, Lee Shippey, chairman reported today.

"Although this amount is less than 30 per cent of the city's quota, it is encouraging as fewer than one sixth of the workers had reported up to that time. Many more are expected to come in during this week," Mr. Shippey said.

At Red Cross headquarters, it was predicted that once more Sierra Madre will be on the banner list of cities which will make their quotas.

Dr. J. Earl Gossard cheered workers Monday by walking into headquarters to make a donation. "If any worker called on me," he said, "it happened when I was out, and I want to save you the trouble of calling again."

Mr. Shippey pointed out that this type of thing is greatly appreciated as many times volunteer workers must make several trips to one house or business establishment before they can find the prospective donor.

City Planning Commission Rejects Boys' Home Request

A resounding "no" was heard in the City Hall chambers last Thursday night when the City Planning Commission met for the second hearing on the request by Edward Bateman for a variance to establish a boys' home for children under supervision of Juvenile Court at 700 Acacia and voted unanimously to refuse the application.

The issue which has been the subject of heated debate for several weeks met strong opposition by a group of property owners who circulated a petition opposing the proposed home on the basis of fire hazard, decreased property values and crowded school conditions.

Bateman, who carries the title of Director of Ministry to Children by permission of Juvenile Court and Juvenile Probation Department, and who has had many years of experience in child welfare work, became interested in the property because the 36 acre site seemed ideal as a home for boys whose parental neglect had caused them to become wards of Juvenile Court.

Mr. Bateman pointed out that the home and his supervision met all qualifications set down by the State Department of Social Welfare.

At last Thursday's meeting, Mr. Bateman presented letters from the Mission Covenant Church and the Pasadena Evangelical Church Association and a petition containing 88 names favoring granting of the variance. The opposing group had previously presented its petition carrying 95 names, representing 65 property owners in the Acacia vicinity.

In an exclusive interview with the NEWS, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, chairman of the Planning Commission, said that she believes the variance was denied because of concern over the tax free angle of the institution and the increased fire hazard which might be

POLICE SEEK DOG AS RABIES SUSPECT

A search is being conducted by police for a reddish brown cocker spaniel so that it may be examined for rabies.

When last seen in the downtown area, Saturday at noon, the dog was tied to the post of the mail box in front of 11 Kersting Court, at which time it bit a mail carrier, Daniel Daniels of 380 W. Carter.

Daniels was treated at the Medical Center, but health authorities still believe the dog should be examined for the sake of its owner as well as others.

Burglars Visit Home Of Dr. A. L. Wood

The home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Wood, 255 S. Mt. Trail, was burglarized Friday night or Saturday with losses that included 200 silver dollars, $250 in currency, one $50 War Bond, 500 shares of hospital stock, a diamond ring, a diamond necklace, and a mink stole, according to police reports.

Police believe the burglary belongs to the same pattern that has been developing in the Sierra Madre-Arcadia area.

brought about by the presence of 20 boys in the proposed home area.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. William Davis

Funeral services for Mrs. William Morris Davis, 82, a resident of Sierra Madre and Pasadena for 25 years, who died Mar. 13, were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of Ascension with Rev. Harley G. Smith officiating.

Mrs. Davis was the widow of William Morris Davis, world renowned physiographer who for three years prior to his death in 1934, was visiting professor at Cal Tech.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Davis was principal of the lower division of Milton Academy, Milton, Mass. She was a member of the Woman's Club of Cal Tech and until recently she was active in St. Anne's Guild of the Church of the Ascension.

There are no survivors.

County Supervisors Proclaim March 20 - 27 WISTARIA WEEK

Honoring Sierra Madre and its annual Wistaria Festival, which opened today, the County Board of Supervisors today adopted a resolution proclaiming the week of March 20 to 27 to be WISTARIA WEEK.

The resolution, introduced by Supervisor Roger Jessup, read: WHEREAS, the city of Sierra Madre will hold its 41st annual Wistaria Festival, and

WHEREAS, thousands of southland residents and visitors from all over the nation each year visit Sierra Madre to see the famous vine, which is the largest blossoming plant in the world and called one of the seven gardening wonders of the world, and WHEREAS, the Wistaria Vine is in blossom now, and will be in blossom through March and April,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors does hereby proclaim the week of March 20 to March 27 inclusive, as WISTARIA WEEK, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the 1955 Wistaria Festival, with the best wishes of the Board of Supervisors for an outstanding and successful festival.

Hey, Teenagers!

You're Invited to Attend Big Clubhouse Pow Wow April 12

Calling all teenagers in Sierra Madre! How would you like a clubhouse all of your own? Do you have some ideas for increased recreational facilities for this area? How do you feel about sports tournaments? Dances?

Well, guys and gals, you are hereby extended an invitation by the Coordinating Council to be present at the April 12 meeting of the Council to be held in St. Rita's Parish House for the purpose of learning the kind of fun activities YOU would like to see in Sierra Madre.

A representative group of adults has kicked off the ball and now it's almost your turn to carry it. The first phase of the game comes with your presence at the April 12 meeting and from there on it can be your project.

A steering committee of adults has been named by the Council and any of the following men and women will be glad to give you any information you may want before the April conference: Organization—Claude Brown, Custer 5-9693 and Frazer Dougherty, Custer 5-1701; Finance—Art Draeger, Custer 5-0127; Sports—Mrs. Paul Landwehr, Custer 5-6222; Dances—Mrs. Jerrel M. Morris, Custer 5-0772; Clubhouse—Walter Wilson, Custer 5-9512; Teenage jobs—Mrs. Edwin G. Meyer, Custer 5-0843. Just call them and see how friendly they are.

It is believed that the teenage committee structure will follow along the lines of that set up by the adults, but the plan is still flexible and the adults are waiting for the teenagers' viewpoint before final decisions are made.

With strong prospect of a clubhouse in view, it is hoped that a large representative group of young people will be present for the meeting.

The Coordinating Council has spent many hours analyzing the teenagers' needs locally which are far greater than those faced by communities having their own Junior and Senior High Schools. Support from several service clubs has already been promised and one

Hearing on New Bus Route Tues., April 5

The California Public Utilities Commission has set Tuesday, April 5 at 10 o'clock in the Council Chambers of Sierra Madre City Hall as the time and place for the hearing on the application of the Metropolitan Coach Lines to extend its line No. 67 in the cities of Sierra Madre and Arcadia.

Extension of the motor coach service to new Sierra Madre residential areas was proposed early in February by the company which requested in its application the Commission's authority to extend the line from its present terminus at Mountain Trail east to Santa Anita in Arcadia. Under the plan, the terminus at Mountain Trail and Montecito would be abandoned. A turn-around would be made one block south of Santa Anita and Sierra Madre Blvd. The City of Sierra Madre has suggested that the bus service go north to Grandview and west to Baldwin instead of turning around at Santa Anita in order to serve more persons living in the northeast section of town.

Wistaria Vine Opens Today For Forty-first Season

Town Divided on Movie Site Subject

The rumor that Sierra Madre will be the setting for a new motion picture, as reported last week, still persists—but this time it has a new twist.

Nothing is certain, mind you, so please don't quote us, but it seems that a few representatives of Allied Artists Productions in Hollywood have been scouting the town not only for picture angles but for permission to control traffic at undetermined intervals—and, if you can believe it, to actually take up parking space!

Although many of the merchants interviewed seemed to think the publicity would more than make up for the inconvenience and occasional jamming of parking space, rumor has it that there still is an ultra-cautious minority in town that wants to weigh the exact cost in dollars and cents.

In the meantime, individual City Councilmen seem to favor the idea of Sierra Madre's being in the movies, the Chamber of Commerce has made no vote against it, and certain merchants have told the picture studio representatives to help themselves so far as picture angles are concerned. They can even change the signs on their stores if necessary for the picture.

What kind of picture? Well, somebody says it's to be the science-fiction type, and somebody else says mystery-type. Personally, we vote for the latter. If it's to be a mystery then we'd say it's already off to a good start.

New Location For Remaining Square Dances

The location for the remaining 10 lessons in the Square dance event for boys and girls between the ages of 6-12 will be moved from the Square to the rear parking lot of Roberts Market on Sierra Madre Blvd. This action was taken at a Board of Directors meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, due to the congested traffic conditions which resulted from barricading the street each Friday night in the vicinity of the Square.

Because of inclement weather.

Preliminaries for Selection Of Princesses Sunday a. m.

Sierra Madre's 1955 Wistaria Festival began today.

The annual fete, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, coincides with the blossoming season of the world famous Wistaria Vine, and chamber officials announced that beginning today the grounds of the vine at 201 West Carter avenue will be opened to the public.

Bank Opens in New Building Monday A.M.

The Bank of Sierra Madre will end more than 47 years of banking service at the "old stand" on Kersting Court Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The doors will close at that time and the bank will re-open at 100 West Sierra Madre Blvd. on Monday, March 21, at the usual banking hour of 10 a.m. To expedite the move, the bank will not be open on Friday evening of this week.

R. C. Lewis, president of the bank, told the NEWS today that Brink's armored cars will transfer the cash and that the safety deposit boxes will be entrusted to the watchful eyes of men from Pinkerton's Detective agency until the boxes are placed in the new vault. Burglar alarms are already installed in the new building and are ready for immediate operation.

The after-hour depository outside the old building is closed and will be ready for depositors on Monday in the new bank, Mr. Lewis said.

The new bank building is more than twice the size of the old quarters with an area of 6000 square feet on the main floor. Basement space provides another 3000 square feet.

A more detailed history of the bank and a complete description of the new building will be found in next week's issue of the NEWS.

Boy Submerged in Unfinished Pool

Craig McCoy, 5½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, 232 Ramona Ave., is resting comfortably at his home after suffering a fractured elbow when he fell into a pool under construction on Manzanita Ave. last Thursday.

Young McCoy with his companion Chris Carlson, was playing on the property where the pool, only partly finished, was filled at one end with water from a recent rainfall.

The lad was completely submerged when his playmate ran to the McCoy home to report the accident. The McCoy boy was taken to St. Luke Hospital where the fractured elbow and other minor injuries were treated.

Rasmussens-Lane-Perry Stores Hold Opening This Weekend

Downtown Sierra Madre will see another "Grand Opening" celebration tomorrow with gifts to shoppers and their children when the community's newest business structure, the Rasmussen Building, becomes officially opened to the public.

The three new stores contained within the building—Rasmussen Appliance, Jeweler R. W. Lane, and Perry's Stationery and Gift Shop—are located on W. Sierra Madre Blvd. at 52, 54, and 56, respectively, in a total frontage of 62 feet. The building, extending to a depth of 80 feet, also contains a basement, 20 by 60 feet, half of which will be used for an appliance service department with Chet Herber in charge.

The Rasmussen Appliance store, formerly at 43 N. Baldwin, takes 32 feet of the modern flagstone frontage to offer an expanded line of General Electric and Maytag products such as refrigerators, washing machines, and deep freeze units, O'Keefe and Merritt gas ranges, along with general household and kitchen appliances that include radios, record players, coffee makers, tape recorders, and toasters.

Of the other two stores, each with a 15-foot frontage, the new jewelry and watch repair shop will be operated by Robert W. Lane, who formerly was in business in Altadena. Besides experienced watch repairing, he will present an assortment of jewelry and a fine line of watches.

Perry's has long been known here for its office supplies and Hallmark greeting cards. Formerly at 19 Kersting Ct., the new shop now is equipped to display all its wares in one room, including genuine Duncan crystal accessory pieces, Masslinn napkins and towels, and Montag writing papers. Assistants to Mrs. Juanita Perry, proprietor, will be Mrs. Lillian Haverick and Mrs. Mary Scribner.

Rasmussen's has announced its business hours as 8:30 to 6 p.m. six days a week except for the Friday schedule which is 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. The office hours at Perry's are the same except that the shop opens at 9 a.m. Hours at the jewelry store, although not yet announced, are expected to be similar.

The new block and stucco building was begun in November, 1954, and was designed by Manuel de la Torre, contractor.

Scanning the Sportscene

By BOB BROGGER

Word that Kenny Pearson, PCC's great center this past season, is going to play for UCLA next year, came as no surprise to us.

After watching big "Swede" lead the Lancers in scoring with a 21 point average a game, and coming in third in total points in the Western State Conference, we knew either Twogood of USC or Wooden of UCLA would go after him. Coach Johnny Wooden was the man that got to Kenny first, however.

Wooden said that he'd at least be 6th or 7th man on the squad if not first string. Remember UCLA won't have the team they had last season. The only real stars that will be back are—Al Herring, Willie Naulls, and Morris Taft. Kenny's gonna do all right next year, wait and see.

Look out for USC next Fall. They're going to have six returning lettermen that ought to give the Bruins a lot of trouble. Returning to the fold next season will be—Jack Dunne 6' 3", Jim Kaufman 6' 4", Jack Lovrich 6' 5 1/2", Dick Nagai 6', Ralph Pausig 6' 2", and Tony Psaltis 6' 3".

Most of the candidates for infield jobs with the Yankees this year hail from California. Jerry Coleman and Gil McDougald were born in San Francisco, Andy Carey in Alameda, Woody Held of Sacramento, Billy Martin of Berkeley, and Laury Cavalier of Sierra Madre.

NATIVES OF MICHIGAN TO MEET AT PICNIC SATURDAY

More than 500 youngsters from 39 high schools and junior colleges are participating in the three-day tourney, Mar.

21, 22 and 23. They'll come from all parts of California, as far north as Santa Cruz, as far south as El Centro, lugging their own costumes, equipment and props.

Competition is fierce, with nightly awards going to the best actor, best actress and outstanding production. Prizes range from scholarships to the famed Playhouse College of Theatre Arts to recorded dramatic albums of the great footlights stars. Most coveted honor is the Governor Knight Award, presented to the tourney's outstanding stars on behalf of California's chief executive.

Performances will commence at 1 p.m. daily and are open to the public at a nominal charge. Each school will present a short, one-act play, in a repertoire that includes everything from well-known standards to original scripts.

Judges and Hollywood guest personalities expected at the tournament are to be announced shortly.

"In the Spirit," Alan Mowbray comedy current at the Playhouse, will be temporarily suspended during the tournament. Performances will resume Thursday, March 24.

Originally torpedo tubes on Navy destroyers were mounted in the bow. Now they are mounted in a battery which can be trained so that the whole ship need not be turned toward the target.

Tournament of Roses Contest For 1956 Theme Ends This Month

People of the United States are thinking of world peace, travel, adventure and the study of the Bible, it is indicated in the hundreds of letters now being received by the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association in response to a plea for public assistance in selecting a theme for the 1956 New Year's Rose Parade.

Each mail delivery brings in suggestions for a theme float builders can use in designing floral masterpieces for the New Year's Day parade, Dr. A. L. Gerrie, Tournament president, revealed.

The Tournament judges will select one of the suggestions and will reward the sender with a day "fit for a king," with Rose Bowl tickets, parade seats and distinguished guest luncheon invitation.

The contest will remain open during the month of March for suggestions on postcards or letters to Tournament of Roses, Theme Contest, 181 South Los Robles Ave., Pasadena, Dr. Gerrie said.

Trees and Prospectors

Tiny roots burrowing deep into forest soil in search of nourishment have been useful in locating concentrations of zinc and copper at depths down to 30 feet. Mineral solutions are absorbed by the tree roots and are then carried throughout the living parts of the tree. If a chemical analysis of the limbs show a higher than normal mineral content for the area or species, a deposit of mineral beneath the tree is indicated.

The name "biogeochemistry" has been given to this new method of exploration. Its application may be extended to detect such rarer minerals as vanadium, silver, gold, tungsten and uranium.

Lee Shippey asks

What Do You Think?

Editors' Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, you are asked, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of THE NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

Well, the petition for a boys' home has been denied, and I hope someone is happy about it, for I frankly am ashamed.

The point was raised that had the plans called for the home close to my property, I would have objected. I certainly would not. Some years ago the entire block facing my house was vacant and there were rumors that a home or institution would be put there. We welcomed the idea.

Some persons seem to think any kind of school or home or institution lessens the value of their property. We used to live next door to the public school. In fact, the property we rented now is part of the school grounds, with the school cafeteria on it. And it did a lot for us to be close to all those playing children. I believe that children's voices make the sweetest music known.

If the argument weren't all over, I would like to quote from two letters, one from a friend, the other from a stranger, who feel deeply on the subject. But we have too good a town to let differences of opinion divide us into bitter

Editor, Sierra Madre News

There is a too, too striking parallel between the recent uprooting of the Welcome to Sierra Madre sign that used to grace the corner of Foothill at Michillinda before it was replaced by progress in the shape of electric Stop and Go signals; and the proposed ruin of the residential and rural character of Sierra Madre itself, to make room for something probably labelled progress, in the shape of rezoning purely R-1 zones down to R-P, R-3 and even C, general commercial.

That Welcome sign pointed the way to a place that was home — home from industrial districts, from business offices, from horrid Main Streets. When visitors came to see friends in Sierra Madre, they were instructed to look for the Welcome sign as a directional guide. At the end of a day's work, Sierra Madreans knew they had left commerce behind when they saw the Welcome sign and entered the bosky avenues of our little town.

The Sierra Madre News of March 3rd printed an article entitled Welcome Sign Is Unwelcome, which says "Like a man without a country, it (the Welcome sign) has been refused even so much as standing room by state, county, Pasadena and private authorities."

Councilman Roberts has suggested that it might be used at the corner of W. Sierra Madre and Michillinda Bvds. This last seems an excellent suggestion, as the sign would be keeping company with the friendly club signs already there. Unless that corner is rezoned from R-1 to C-Re-zoned to general commercial, in which case the Welcome sign would likely be keeping company with a gasoline station, about the most unwelcome thing to Sierra Madre residents that such a corner could have. It is the main corner of entrance to Sierra Madre. It is covered with trees. That corner and its opposite, occupied by a church, hold the fort against the ugly encroaching of markets, drug stores, small shops and the gasoline station that have already reached our gates. If once we let commerce and real estate speculation take the approaches to Sierra Madre, the whole rural character of the town will soon be gone.

To whose benefit? The answer to that question is most important to all of us.

Directly adjacent to and behind that particular southeast corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda on Mariposa Ave., there are five first-class homes and gardens, one with a swimming pool. Oil and water do not mix. The oil of a gas station will not mix with the water of a swimming pool. Our Welcome sign will fit in with trees but not with a commercial corner.

Let us put back the Welcome into Sierra Madre as a home town and keep out more general commerce and real estate speculation. These would ruin our corners and impose the crowding of multiple dwellings on purely R-1 zones.

Renee Tallantyre,
661 Mariposa.

Mr. Lee Shippey is a very convincing writer, but I believe it is only fair that your readers get the whole picture about the creation of a new street in the downtown area.

In regard to the "Unbearable" cost of the project for some of the property owners, the inference made would lead one to think it would amount to the property value of the home. There is hardly a home on the street that couldn't raise the costs for the improvements on their property, based on the increased valuation of the property.

These homes on Esperanza would be at least 125 feet from the proposed street. I know this, for I traverse it daily. This is a greater distance than many homes on Sierra Madre Blvd., which are subjected to the "roar of trucks" daily. Enforcement of local traffic laws will eliminate most "roars."

There are other alternatives to those proposed by Mr. Shippey on property values based on the new street. Overnight, these properties will increase in value. This can prove profitable to the property owners on Esperanza. If they desire to split their approximately 300-foot lots in two. This would provide lots facing the new street, which if zoned for multiple dwellings could readily be sold at a value far beyond the present value of the entire property. This would still leave a home with a lot of about 150 feet in depth. This might not be sufficient for some people, but we have found it possible and comfortable to live on a lot less than 150 feet for many years. The sale of the rear portion of this lot, facing on the new street would prove an unforeseen income to many of these people.

There appears to be an unconscious bias expressed against the business men in Mr. Shippey's column of Mar. 19. For while Mr. Shippey feels entitled to an income property, he would deprive other owners of income from a considerable amount of property which for many years lays waste behind the Sierra Madre Blvd. business establishments only because there is no access to this property.

If only the business people would benefit by this project, —which many Esperanza property owners do not concede,—there are still other reasons why this new street is desirable.

Many people are anxious to prevent any changes in Sierra Madre, but they overlook changes that are already here. That is so because it is now a "fait accompli."

The great increase of traffic on the Boulevard creates a genuine problem and will be more so when the new bank building opens with its large parking area. The new street would draw off a considerable amount of necessary parking and traffic and relieve the congestion on the main boulevard. Improvement of traffic conditions and relief of congestion certainly tends to prevent accidents and loss of life. This will benefit the whole community, —not just the business men.

This proposed street is not a new project. It is a long-delayed and postponed necessity.

There are other aspects that should be mentioned, but space is limited. The street is recommended by the Planning Consultants. In fact, they have advised provision for far more business space than most present-day citizens desire. But this area is logical for business development and parking. These are realities that must be faced.

Finally we are quick to overlook the fact that our geographical location makes it difficult for many people without transportation to get services and employment. The moderate amount of business and light industry here is providing a real need for people in such a category. They should not be denied the pleasure of living here.

In closing, it has been my experience that the democratic process has proved successful.

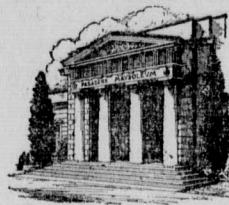

If the majority of people involved, feel that this is a necessary project and it is so recommended by the Planning Consultants, the Planning Commission and the City Council, it seems the American and fair way to settle the question.

I think what is happening to Sierra Madre is something that many may have dreaded. We are in the path of the growth of civilization, or at least marked population growth in this area and inevitably, in its wake, comes the unpleasanties that some are bound to suffer.

It is my sincere belief that this new street will be of great benefit to the city and it can be done without any great hardship or sorrow to anyone.

Nathan Jacobs, M.D.

"Metro buses rate a good word from me"

We are quoting
B. G. Harrison of Manhattan Beach, who rides Metro regularly into downtown Los Angeles.
Mr. Harrison says:

"Your service is fast, dependable and convenient. It is economical, too... at least a dollar a day less than driving. I play a lot of golf, and that weekly saving pays a large share of my golfing expenses."

"Buses save about 50% for me"

"That difference between bus fares and driving may not sound important on the run to Riverside," states Mrs. Edward Fraters, telephone operator who lives in Arlington. "But it mounts up. I'm learning to play our new Wurlitzer organ, and my 'Metro savings' will keep me in sheet music. Besides, I like riding Metro buses, they're so convenient, and the drivers are so nice and friendly."

factions. Once a battle is over it is foolish to revive it.

Yet I can't help imagining a case. Suppose a member of Mr. Bugsy Siegel's gang, driving a magnificent car, wearing the best of clothes and using the best of manners, should offer a whopping big price for the property where the boys' home was to have been. Suppose that fictitious gentleman had eight children and a dozen nephews. Do you suppose, if he offered a big enough price, he would not be able to buy into any neighborhood in town?

That, except for the children, was just what happened to some good friends of mine not many years ago. The estate next door, in an exclusive neighborhood, was bought by persons who looked at right and didn't haggle over price. Until the FBI men closed in and there was a gun battle, my friends thought the new neighbors were just what the neighborhood needed.

That's what could happen if we think more of property values than of human values.

According to Mrs. Valois, the sale will begin on April 22 and continue over two weekends. Watch for it.

Camp Fire Girls Observe 45th Birthday Of Organization's Founding This Week

From Coast to coast, more than 392,000 Camp Fire Girls are joining in observing the 45th anniversary of the founding of their organization during the week of March 13 to 20.

Camp Fire Girls, Inc., is the oldest youth organization in America serving the leisure-time needs of girls from seven to eighteen of every race and religion with a program designed to help the individual girl realize her fullest potentialities.

Founded in 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick and other distinguished educators, Camp Fire has groups in more than 3000 communities in the United States and has made its program available to youth in Alaska, Canada, Spain, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia, England, Austria, El Salvador, Chili, Japan, Germany, Indo-China, Java and Mexico.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary president of Camp Fire Girls. Honorary vice-presidents are former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover.

In these chaotic times, it is heartening to note that Camp Fire continues to present practical leisure-time training in citizenship, helping girls practice it while they are growing up. In line with this policy, it has adopted as its birthday theme this year "Let Freedom Ring!" Camp Fire Girls will concentrate throughout the year on gaining a fuller understanding and appreciation of the Bill of Rights and the freedom it guarantees.

Birthday week was highlighted by special activities and projects in Sierra Madre.

ALA Members Slate Meeting March 24

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. Lucille Nollac, 507 E. Grandview, Thursday, Mar. 24, at 8 p.m.

New members are always welcome.

March 13th was "Go to Church" Sunday with services at 11 a.m. at the Methodist Church. Displays have been set up in various store windows of the business district and a birthday party for the Sierra Madre Camp Fire Girls, a Red Feather Agency, was held on March 12th with an interesting program, including movies and refreshments.

Fall Class Planned In Posture and Poise

Mrs. William F. Spalding, adult education chairman of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, has announced a class in posture and poise will be sponsored next fall by the club under the supervision and direction of the adult education department at Pasadena City College.

The request for the class must be made to Pasadena City College by April 1st and all those planning to attend must have their signatures attached to the request. Those wishing to join should call Mrs. Spalding at Custer 5-2784 as soon as possible.

30 Day Leave for John D. Matter

John T. Matter, electronics technician in the U. S. Navy, arrived in San Diego last Sunday aboard the destroyer, USS Hollister, and is now enjoying a thirty day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Matter, 501 Mariposa.

His ship was in the first division of destroyers to arrive in San Diego this year from the Far East. The USS Hollister took part in the evacuation of the Tachens Islands and operated with the Seventh Fleet between Formosa and the Communist-held mainland.

A political orator often convinces himself by his own speech.

YOUR HEALTH

CHANGING TIMES
ROY O. GILBERT
Los Angeles County
Health Officer

A great improvement in the physical health of the American people has occurred since the turn of the present century. In 1900, the average expectation of life at birth was slightly more than 47 years. In 1951, at which time the last national reckoning was made, this span had lengthened to 68.5, an increase in time that is equivalent to the entire life of prehistoric man. Within the next decade or two, the average length of life in the United States may possibly extend quite comfortably beyond the allotted span of three score and ten. The rapid progress that has been made in medical science and the increase of health services to the public are, in considerable measure, responsible for this betterment.

Preventive medicine goes back into the ages when it was the duty of community or religious leaders to lay down the laws of health. The rules of health Moses gave to his people are to be found in the book of Leviticus and the code for mental health that he recorded is summed up in the Ten Commandments. In the centuries that followed the Reformation, however, the health of the population was neglected—a neglect which persisted until the advent of the Industrial Revolution in the middle of the 19th century. At this period, people in rural areas flocked to factory towns and over-crowding, dirt, lack of sanitation, and long working hours were but a few of the evils that made the disease and death rates rise alarmingly. To alleviate these conditions doctors were pressed into the service of the state, but it was not until the development of the science of bacteriology toward the end of the 19th century that knowledge of the cause and prevention of disease increased with great rapidity.

During the past 50 years, advances made in the control of contagious diseases have been dramatic. Typhoid fever and diphtheria were dreaded afflictions which claimed thousands of American lives in the period around 1900. Today, both diseases are at the vanishing point. Smallpox, in the early part of the century, killed almost 3000 people each year. In a recent study, which covered a five-year period, smallpox deaths averaged but 12 a year. And, although typhus killed a great number of soldiers in World War I, in World War II not one single American soldier died of this disease.

National statistics reveal that tuberculosis has dropped from second to tenth place as a cause of death since 1900. Just a few years ago, syphilis treatment dragged out over a 70-week period but now, in the early stages of disease, it can

TREE ROSES—EYE-LEVEL BEAUTY

The special appeal of tree roses is their height—reaching almost four feet they offer fragrance you can reach and eye-level appeal.

There is still a short time to do some bare root planting of tree roses, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Excellent selections in this type of rose in shades of red are Bravo, Charlotte Armstrong, Chrysler, Heart's Desire, Nocturne and San Fernando.

Blending colors of pink and rose can be had with these roses: First Love, Helen Traubel, Pinkie and Show Girl. If your choice for tree roses is white you can select from McGredy's Ivory, Snowbird or White Wings.

Shades of yellow will add be successfully treated in 10 days or less. And so it goes. These are but a few of the diseases that medical science and public health have brought under control.

Much remains to be done. Many problems, particularly in the chronic diseases, await a solution. Generally speaking, however, health conditions have improved and for that we can give thanks to the changing times in which we live.

serve to your rose garden and McGredy's Yellow, Mrs. E. P. Thom and Peace will give you various blends of this color.

In planting the tree rose—as with most other types of roses—set the plant with the crown at soil level, at the same level it was planted at in the nursery. Nurserymen recommend that no commercial fertilizers be added to the soil until the plant is well along in its growth. Peat moss or compost may be mixed into the soil before planting, however. When a substantial amount of new growth has developed you may sprinkle fertilizer on the surface of the soil around the plant and water it in. Thus applied it will feed the rose without burning its new roots. With tree roses proper staking is very important. When planting, tie the plant to the stake with burlap or canvas strips and secure it in two places if there are high winds, one if not. In very hot areas wrap burlap around the rose's trunk and place the stake on the south side of the plant to protect it from the sun.

Rose culture means regular watering and feeding in the growing season. Make sure that the water reaches the deep roots by making a basin around the plant. In feeding the rose wait until after the first season to begin feeding regularly in small amounts. Roses need lots of food—but fertilizer applied too soon after planting can do harm.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Week, March 6-12, was marked by Troop 20 in two ways. One was an exhibit placed in Lange's window, of a miniature camp scene; the various articles, such as table, washstand, saw-buck, etc., were made to demonstrate the use of lashing.

The other was their Father and Daughter Banquet. The big turkey, "brooded over", shall we say, by the leader, Mrs. Hippenstiel, all day, turned out to a perfect high-spot of the meal. The troop sponsor, the Woman's Club, obligingly provided the place for this occasion on March 11.

Each day of Scout Week was dedicated to a different facet of activity and this day was assigned to Arts and Crafts. In keeping, therefore, was "Drama" which the girls, provided by a skit named "Just One Call". This was also in conformity with the badge work chosen for the coming season. At the Court of Awards covering last season, four badges were received by most of the girls. These were Adventurer, Campcraft, Swimmer or Horsewoman, and either Cat and Dog, Animal Raiser, Child Care, Cook or Musician.

Never ask for a favor unless you are ready to give one.

Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand REPORTS THE WASHINGTON NEWS

Representative Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District, California, appeared before the House Appropriations Subcommittee to testify for the Forest Service.

"For many years," Mr. Hiestand told the Committee, "the Government has been niggardly with our expenditures for Forest Service. The Congress has readily appropriated all the money requested, but the Forest Service has always been a conservatively-managed Department and has never requested enough money really to do the job as effectively as we now think needed. The Forest Service people are, in my opinion, conscientious, high-idealized public servants who will work untold hours and have to be exceptionally well-qualified as to education."

Mr. Hiestand brought out the fact that visitors to the National Forests, particularly the Angeles National Forest, now number nearly ten times the pre-World War II totals, although facilities and personnel for this great added use have been only slightly increased.

"We are becoming more and more of an outdoor nation," continued Rep. Hiestand, "and that's as it should be."

Reporting on a personal survey made in the summer of 1953 along with Chief Forester William Mendenhall of Sierra Madre, Mr. Hiestand outlined the damage from the two great fires of 1953 and those of early 1954.

"It was obvious," Mr. Hiestand stated, "that more facilities and personnel would be required to combat the forest fire threat, as well as the resultant flood threat."

"The Appropriations Subcommittee, a different committee than that before which I appeared previously in behalf of the Forest Service, had to be convinced that a disaster coming from great canyons situated below fire-denuded mountains was not simply a wall of water—it was as well a wall of rocks and boulders, some of them as big as automobiles, traveling fast enough to crush buildings and lives in its path.

He presented copies of Los Angeles papers, reporting the January 1934 and March 1938 disasters which came from the mountains; large maps, charts and photos completed the display which effectively presented the damage sustained.

Hiestand explained that it is difficult to get added appropriations for which Departments had not made requests. He said, "I found that out last year, and although I was able to reinstate one item of $200,000 that had been eliminated to come through a Supplemental Appropriation later, I am hopeful substantially larger increases may be approved this year."

"This is not," Hiestand maintains, "a Federal Aid request in the usual sense. These Forests are Federal property, and it is therefore a Federal responsibility to protect them from fire and by so doing give protection for the neighboring communities. They need new fire trails, telephone lines, fire both is great here in Sierra Madre, water tanks, and much new equipment, such as bulldozers, trucks, tanks and housing. This can be amortized over a ten-year period. To do the job adequately 750 added fire-fighting personnel will be needed."

Citing an example of where increased facilities could have prevented much disaster, Mr. Hiestand said a contract helicopter was used in an attempt to extinguish the fires started simultaneously by lightning strikes in four places at Fish Fork in 1953. The helicopter was effective in putting out the first two fires, but in landing at the second had been damaged and was prevented from taking off for the other two fires.

"Matter" Will be Topic
At Science Church

"It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing," declares Jesus in John's Gospel (6:63). These words are the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" in all Christian Science churches. Through daily consecration of thought to the perception of God, Spirit, individuals awaken from false material concepts of awareness of man's coexistence with God. Jesus counsels in John's Gospel (7:24), "Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment."

"When the evidence of Spirit and matter, Truth and error, seems to come together, it rests upon foundations which time is wearing away. Mortal mind judges by the testimony of the material senses, until Science obliterates this false testimony," is quoted from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. (p. 296).

Dinner Meeting Held
For "Methodist Men"

The second meeting of the newly organized "Methodist Men" was held at Church of Our Redeemer, Methodist on Monday evening, March 14. Supper was served by the ladies of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Robert Fletcher was chairman of the hostess committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Earl Gossard and Mrs. Florence Cole.

Robert Fletcher, president of "Methodist Men", presided at the meeting. Fred Brerton, secretary, reported that membership cards will be available for all men who wish to relate themselves to the group. He reminded those present that Methodist men work for Christ and that membership is dependent only on one's decision to a life of Christian stewardship.

The speaker for the evening was Ronald Williams, Pasadena District Lay Leader of the Methodist Church. He challenged the twenty men present to become the spiritual backbone of their local church. He suggested that Methodist men can help set the tone for the entire church. The evening was closed with the benediction by Rev. Raynor Smith.

Says Rev. George Lindsay

"Only in religion do we find an adequate answer to the question 'Who Am I?' which faces every man," the Rev. George Lindsay stated in his initial sermon at the Congregational Church last Sunday.

"We do not really know one another, very well, even when we have lived close together," Mr. Lindsay observed, and the answers to the questions we ask about ourselves which come through science, or politics, or popular psychology are always only partial answers.

"Man is a creature of God, created in His image, capable of responding to God far beyond anything we now dream of," the pastor stated. While the image is often marred, chiefly through our desire to make the world over after our own plan, it is never destroyed. Nothing can separate us from the love of God which hold us as His own, he pointed out.

"We are frequently victims of spiritual amnesia, forgetting who we really are. It is the job of the church to call us back to our heritage, that we may realize our sonship," he said.

"It is likewise the task of the church to fill our loneliness, not with activities, but with love of God and concern for each other," the pastor concluded.

er last week's dance was held in the Masonic Temple. The new location will accommodate the approximate 100 children who have enrolled for this newest community event, it is said.

Isabell Connaughton, instructor, assisted by her two daughters and son, is conducting the class. She is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with Leila Roberts, chairman.

A spokesman for the Chamber told the NEWS today that Mrs. Roberts had graciously offered the site for continuation of the lessons in lieu of any other downtown location for the project.

Pony League Tryouts to Begin Mar. 19

Tryouts for berths on Rose Bowl Pony League teams will begin Saturday morning, Mar. 19, at Brookside Park softball diamonds, starting at 8:30 a.m. and will continue until noon, officers of the organization announced this week.

The Rose Bowl Pony League supervises baseball competition among boys of the ages of 13 and 14 who reside in the Pasadena school district.

Car Believed Stolen Found Getting Tune-up

Sierra Madre police who received a stolen car report at 10:50 a.m. Tuesday were glad to hear about an hour later that its owner, Sherman Somerville of Alhambra, had found the automobile in the lot belonging to Carl Hansen, Ford dealer, at 120 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

When found, the car's hood was up and mechanics were giving it a motor tune-up. Seems that an attendant had given the garage foreman, Alex Muir, the key to a Chevrolet that was to be moved from the curb into the garage area. When Muir found that the key fit Somerville's car—well, that was it!

Somerville, who received the tune-up services without charge, may be thinking perhaps he ought to have his car key changed.

On the other hand, if he continues to use the old key, he might next time get a free motor overhaul.

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

1. Prune your fuchsias, bouvardia, pelargoniums and geraniums and any other tender plants now.

2. To better the growing conditions for your hanging fuchsias, cut them back and knock them out of the hanging pots, remove some of the old earth and replenish with rich potting soil; then repot the plant.

3. Time to plant tree roses—for accent!

4. It is safe now to plant sub-tropical fruits such as oranges, lemons and grapefruit.

5. When camellias are in full bloom at the nurseries is the best time to select them. Stop in and look over your nurseryman's supply.

TIME WASTED

Half the people spend their time trying to figure out how the other half ought to live.

WISTERIA FETE From page 1

The queen and her court of four princesses will receive "A Day in Hollywood," including a tour of a major motion picture studio and CBS-TV City with lunch at the Hollywood Brown Derby and dinner also in the motion picture capital.

HIGHER AND HIGHER

History keeps repeating itself—and every time this happens the price goes up.

Scouts of 56 nations belong to the International Scout Conference. The 5,561,993 boys and leaders have common ideals and similar activities and uniforms.
